REFLECTIONS

REMEMBER:

AS I SIT ALONE
WITH THE WARM SUN ON MY BACK
I REALIZE SOMETHING'S MISSING
A PART OF ME WHICH LACKS.

COULD IT BE THE TREES,
REACHING FOR THE SKY?
OR COULD IT BE THE CHILDREN,
WALKING HOME, WHO PASS ME BY?

PERHAPS, I MISS THE BIRDS,
CHIRPING SWEETLY ABOVE MY HEAD?
ALL I FEEL IS RESTLESSNESS
A PART OF ME IS DEAD.

I KNOW NOW WHAT IT IS.
NOW I REALIZE WHAT IS WRONG.
IT'S THE FEELING, THEY CALL SOLITUDE,
ALL MY FRIENDS ARE GONE.

OF COURSE I KNOW,
THAT AS WE GROW,
WE HAVE TO MAKE OUR WAY,
WE ALL MUST PLOT A DIFFERENT COURSE,
TO GO BY EVERYDAY.

I ALWAYS THOUGHT MY FRIENDSHIPS,
WOULD BE ROUND,
JUST LIKE THE MOON,
BUT YOU SEE,
I AM NOT READY,
FOR IT ALL TO END SO SOON.

I MISS THEIR HAPPY LAUGHTER,
FLOATING ON THE WIND.
I MISS THE MANY SECRETS, THAT CIRCULATE WITHIN.

THE ONLY WAY TO KEEP,
OUR FRIENDSHIPS WOVEN TIGHT, IS TO KEEP IN CONTACT ALWAYS,
AND THEN WE'LL BE ALRIGHT!

THE CLASS OF 2002

The class of 2002 has a lot to reflect on from their four years at LVC. They've seen a new dorm built, the beginnings of the PT program, professors come and go. This final year of education is a glorious one, in which you will begin to test the waters of "the real world" and yet return to the relative safety of LVC each night. These final days have a tendency to make people stop and look back on all that has happened during their college careers. The first roommate, first football game, first classes, first time to dispute a grade with a professor, the first time a little freshman asked you for directions...all of these things make up memories that will be taken from LVC as you step forth into the world. This issue of the Quittapahilla has been designed specifically for you, the class of 2002. Enjoy it, treasure it, keep it, but most importantly take time to reflect on what is contained in these pages. These are the lasting memories of a time that laid the foundations for your future, what finished molding who you are and what you stand for, LVC will always be one of those places that you called home.

REFLECTIONS.....2002

Dedication

Dr. Jeannie Hey
Professor of Economics and Political Science
A reflection of true dedication to her students

The 2002 Quittapahilla staff has chosen to dedicate this volume to Dr. Hey. She has dedicated years of her life to the education of Lebanon Valley College students. She has been voted teacher of the year numerous times by the student body. This spring Dr. Hey will begin her retirement. However, she is not giving up LVC entirely. She will continue to teach part time and thereby continue to touch the lives of the next generation. Dr. Hey's service to the student body truly reflects the ideals that we should all aspire to. She began her career at Lebanon Valley in 1989. She specializes in economic theory and environmental and health economics. Her chief interests are in the application of economic principles to the study of social issues. Her professional focus is on the economic analysis of state and local public policy issues. Dr. Hey started her education at Bucknell University and graduated in 1954 with her B.A. She received her MBA from Lehigh University in 1982 and her Ph. D. in 1990.

Editor:

Miss Cheryl Beezup has given countless hours to the completion of this archival record for the college. She has selflessly given of her time and energy to leave LVC with the best chronicle of memories that is within her abilities. She graduates as an active member of the class of '02. Her other activities include Gamma Sig and accounting club.

President G. David Pollick

September 11, 2001

THE PRESIDENT: Good evening. Today, our fellow citizens, our way of life, our very freedom came under attack in a series of deliberate and deadly terrorist acts. The victims were in airplanes, or in their offices; secretaries, businessmen and women, military and federal workers; moms and dads, friends and neighbors.

Thousands of lives were suddenly ended by evil, despicable acts of terror.

The pictures of airplanes flying into buildings, fires burning, huge structures collapsing, have filled us with disbelief, terrible sadness, and a quiet, unyielding anger. These acts of mass murder were intended to frighten our nation into chaos and retreat. But they have failed; our country is strong.

A great people has been moved to defend a great nation. Terrorist attacks can shake the foundations of our biggest buildings, but they cannot touch the foundation of America.

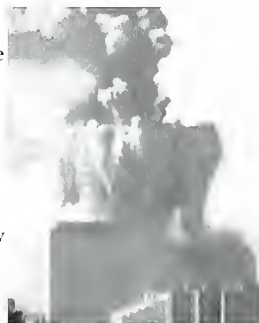

These acts shattered steel, but they cannot dent the steel of American resolve.

America was targeted for attack because we're the brightest beacon for freedom and opportunity in the world. And no one will keep that light from shining.

Today, our nation saw evil, the very worst of human nature. And we responded with the best of America -- with the daring of our rescue workers, with the caring for strangers and neighbors who came to give blood and help in any way they could.

Immediately following the first attack, I implemented our government's emergency response plans. Our military is powerful, and it's prepared. Our emergency teams are working in New York City and Washington, D.C. to help with local rescue efforts.

Our first priority is to get help to those who have been injured, and to take every precaution to protect our citizens at home and around the world from further attacks. The functions of our government continue without interruption.

A Day To Remember

Federal agencies in Washington which had to be evacuated today are reopening for essential personnel tonight, and will be open for business tomorrow. Our financial institutions remain strong, and the American economy will be open for business, as well.

The search is underway for those who are behind these evil acts. I've directed the full resources of our intelligence and law enforcement communities to find those responsible and to bring them to justice. We will make no distinction between the terrorists who committed these acts and those who harbor them.

I appreciate so very much the members of Congress who have joined me in strongly condemning these attacks. And on behalf of the American people, I thank the many world leaders who have called to offer their condolences and assistance.

America and our friends and allies join with all those who want peace and security in the world, and we stand together to win the war against terrorism. Tonight, I ask for your prayers for all those who grieve, for the children whose worlds have been shattered, for all whose sense of safety and security has been threatened. And I pray they will be comforted by a power greater than any of us, spoken through the ages in Psalm 23: "Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I fear no evil, for You are with me."

This is a day when all Americans from every walk of life unite in our resolve for justice and peace.

America has stood down enemies before, and we will do so this time. None of us will ever forget this day. Yet, we go forward to defend freedom and all that is good and just in our world.

Thank you. Good night, and God bless America.

This address was presented on the evening of September 11 from the oval office at 8:30 pm, by President George W. Bush. Photography from time.com and nj.com

Winter Olympics 2002

From the NBC Coverage of the Games:

Day 1: On a brisk Utah night, with temperatures dipping into the teens and light snow falling from the skies, America welcomed the world to play in peace and harmony on the slopes and in the arenas of the Wasatch Range for the next 17 days as the curtain raised on the XIX Olympic Winter Games.

Day 2: The first gold medal of the Salt Lake Olympic Winter Games wasn't decided until the closing seconds but the theme of the day was utter dominance.

Day 3: Three new Olympic stars strode into the dazzling light that broke over Utah's Wasatch Mountains on Sunday. Around their necks, gold medals shone with special brilliance on Day 3 of the Salt Lake Olympic Winter Games.

Day 4: Expect the unexpected...except in Olympic pairs figure skating. By the time the 2002 Olympic Winter Games have spun to a close, it appears that most, if not all, of the 15 disciplines in the Salt Lake program will have given that slightly amended adage another hard workout.

Day 5: The focal point may have been a few meters beyond each sport's official boundary, but there was no mistaking the mood that dominated the XIX Olympic Winter Games on Tuesday.

Day 6: Ottavio Cinquanta, the president of the International Skating Union, probably would prefer less limelight. But he took center ice Wednesday morning and skated a long program for the better part of two hours accompanied by the international sporting press' extra-loud takeoff on Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture."

Day 7: Two Russians dominated an Olympic figure skating competition Thursday night. No one disagreed.

Day 8: Canadian pairs skaters to share gold with Russians, but not all the news was good for Canada on Friday. Its hockey team, among the favorites to win the gold medal in men's ice hockey, fell hard in its opening game.

Day 9: Do you believe in home ice? The 2-2 tie between the Russia and United States men's ice hockey teams might not have been the stuff of miracles. But given the circumstances the return to an American venue of two teams that created the epitome of Olympic drama 22 years ago belief could wait.

Day 10: Canadian figure skaters Jamie Sale and David Pelletier got their gold six days late. Norway and Italy restaged their cross-country relay rivalry with a cardiac finish. Italy's Daniela Ceccarelli skied out of the clouds to win the women's super-G. But none of them could knock the Chris Witty Story off page one.

Day 11: It's a fine point of team ski jumping, but an important one: If you're the fourth jumper, it's good to be tackled. Martin Schmitt accomplished that this day. Schmitt's final jump gave Germany the gold medal by the slimmest of margins over Finland. Schmitt's teammates rewarded him with a hero's dogpile.

Day 12: Welcome women's bobsleigh to the Olympic Winter Games program. And celebrate the victory of USA-2, the little sled that could: driver Jill Bakken and brakeman Vonetta Flowers. Speed skater Derek Parra of the United States also set a world record in the 1500-meter race on the lightning-fast Utah Olympic Oval.

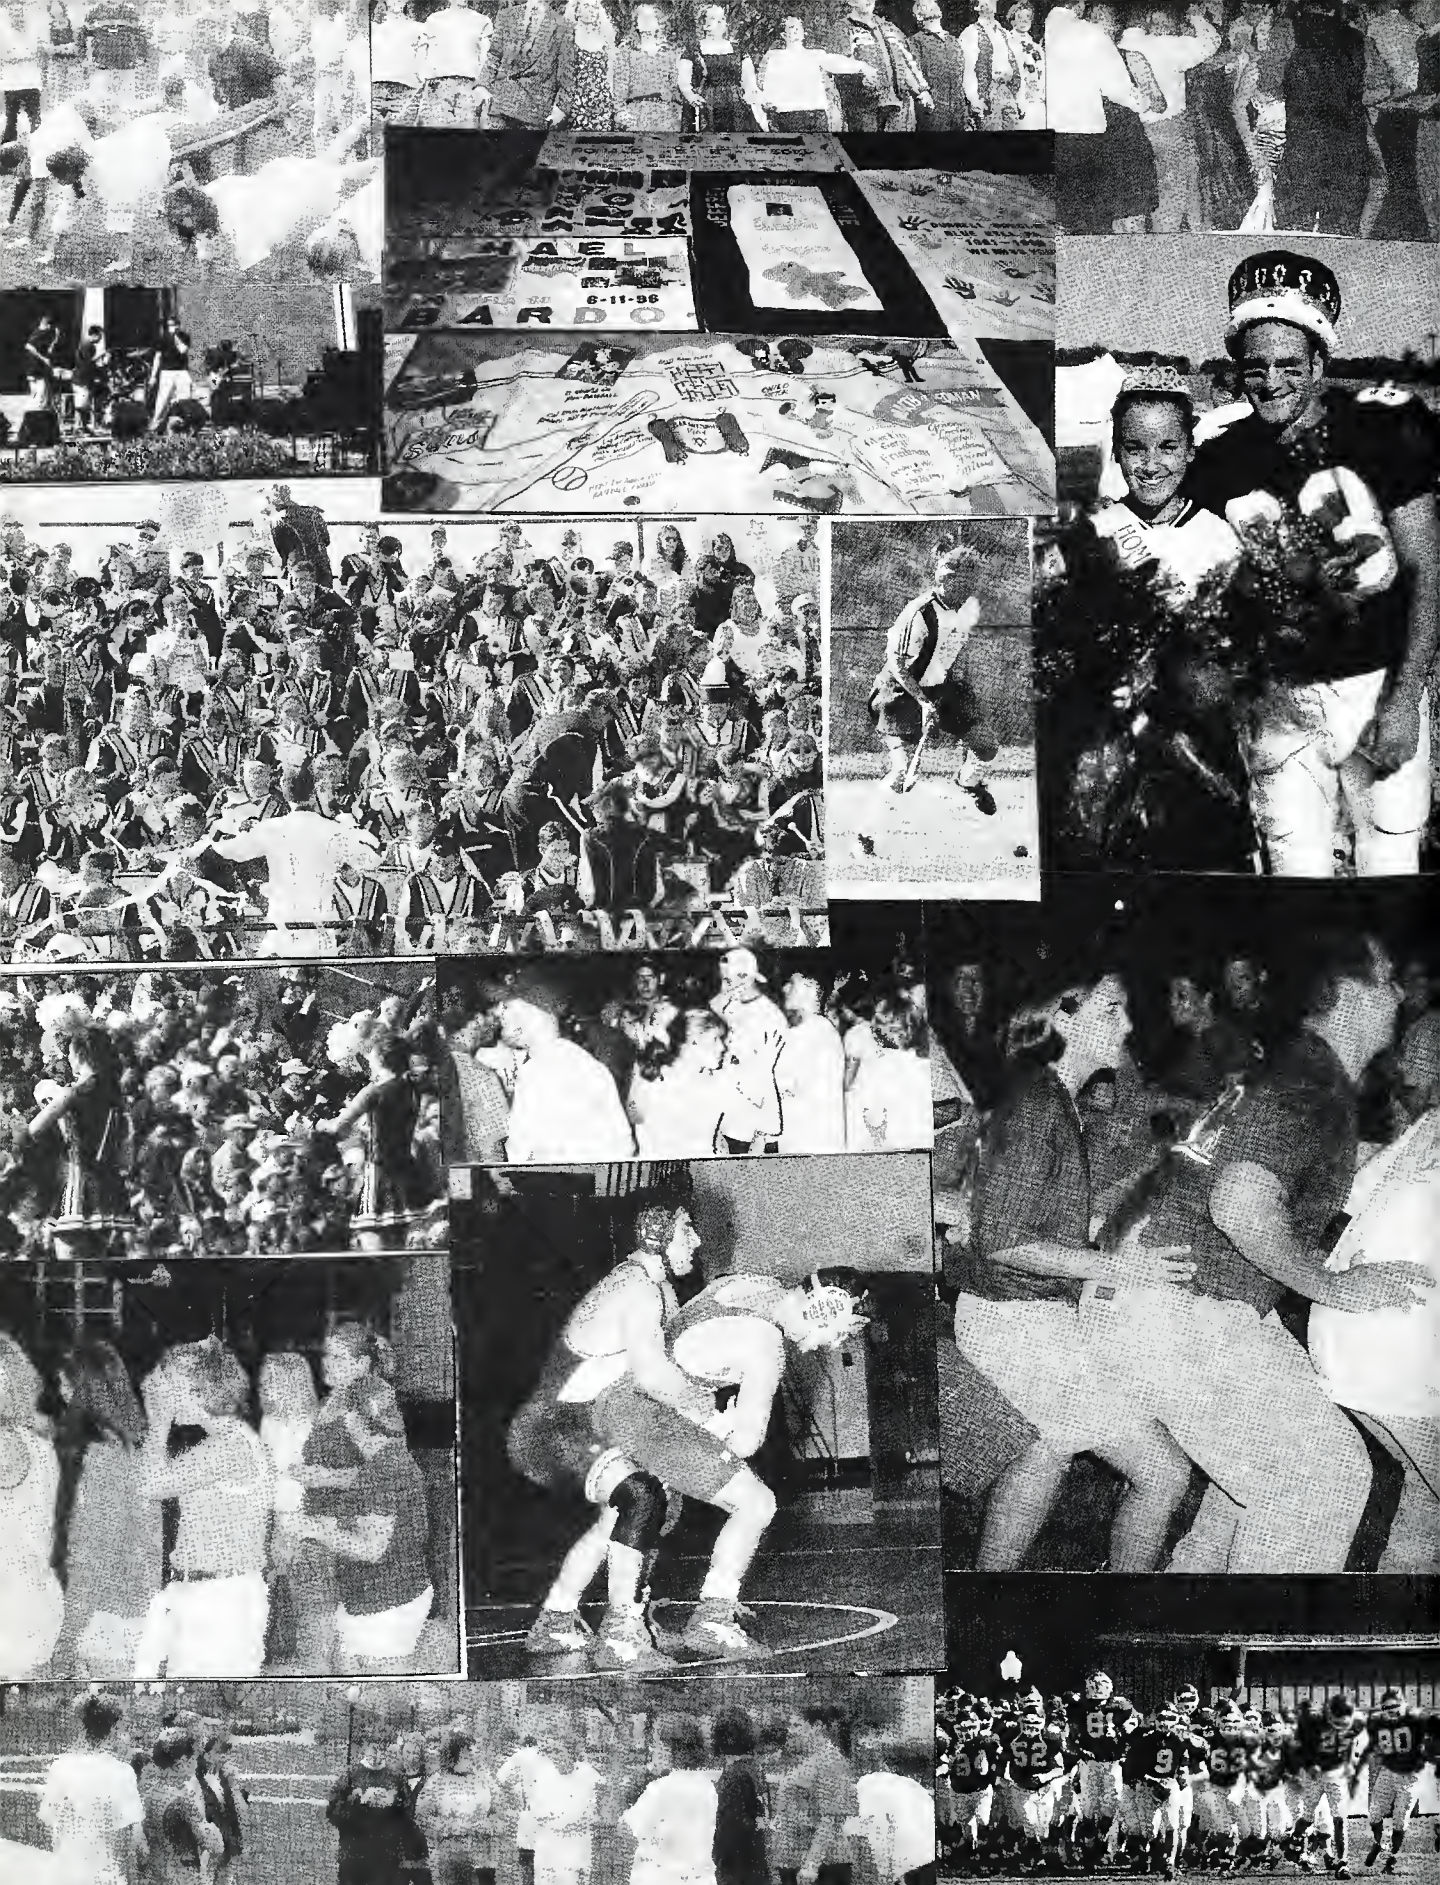

Day 13: Jack Shea must have heard the cheers and sent back one of his own. The late grandfather of Wednesday's gold medalist in men's skeleton, symbolically along for the ride in the form of a photograph tucked inside his grandson's helmet, crossed the finish line in spirit.

Day 14: Where does a person go to learn the mathematics of emotion? Surely such a study is coming our way. Until it arrives, we know where to look: into the eyes of Sarah Hughes, gold medalist in ladies' figure skating at the Salt Lake Games.

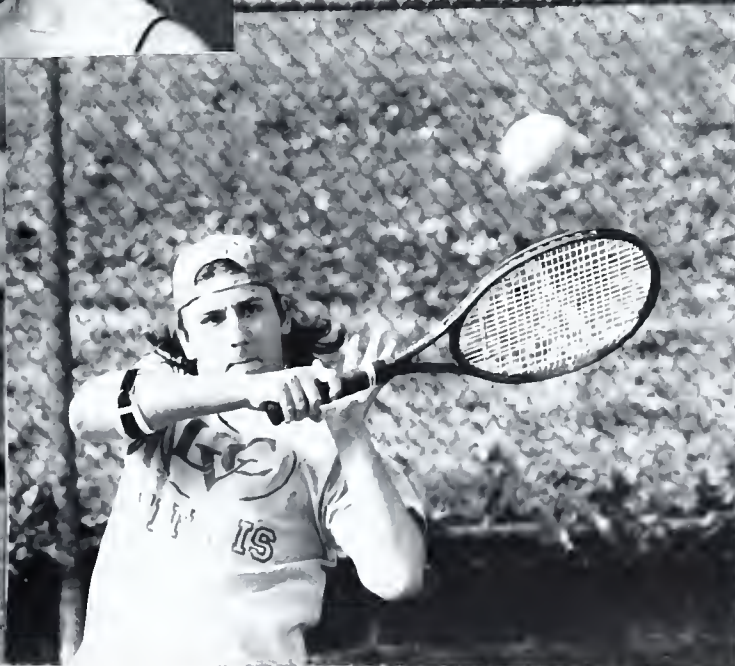

Day 15: The United States men's ice hockey team put a television play-by-play man's celebrated expression to rest on Friday. It happened exactly 22 years after the 1980 U.S. "Miracle on Ice" victory over the Soviet Union.

Day 16: Somebody finally caught up with Arthur Tyler. He'd been waiting there in the Olympic record book for 46 years under "Four-Man Bobsleigh, Cortina, 1956, Bronze Medal." So when the U.S. got its first Olympic men's bobsleigh hardware in nearly a half-century, the team left no doubt. It sent two sleds to finish the job.

Day 17: Fifty years after it last carried home a set of Olympic gold medals, the Canadian men's ice hockey team returned to the top of the podium with a 5-2 victory over the United States in the final competition of the Salt Lake Games.

SPORTS

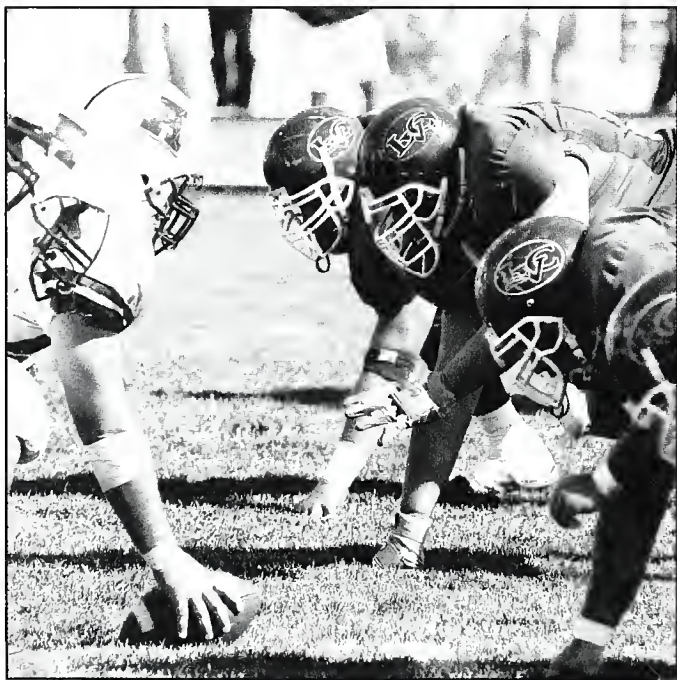

Outscored, But Not Outfought

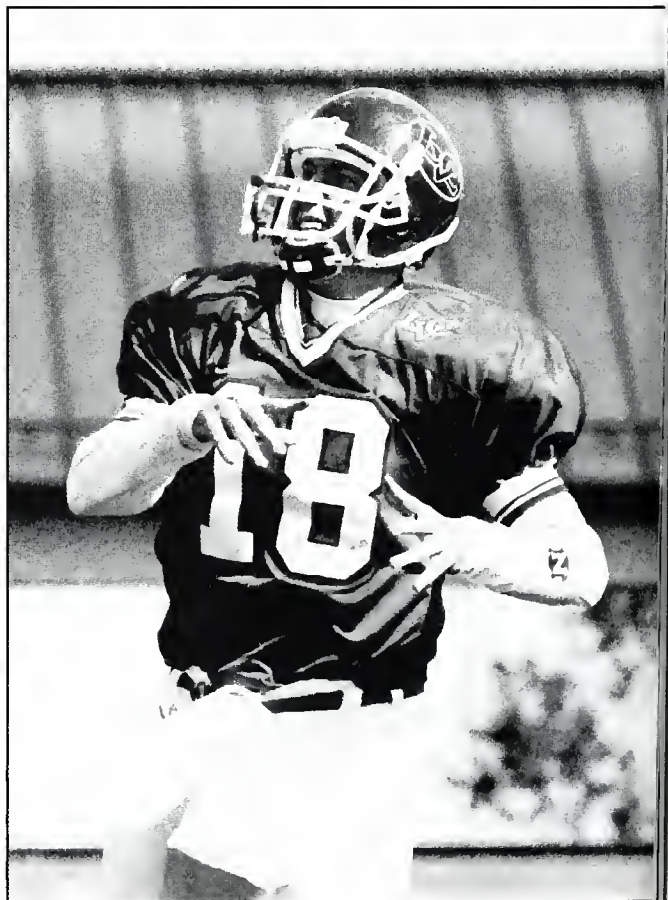

This year was a rebuilding season for the LVC football team. Despite a 1-9 record, a valiant attempt was made; as a result, five team members were named to the MAC All-star team. These members included seniors Chad Hoofnagle, Kyle Andes, and Malou McIntire and juniors Ryan Brennan and Jim Poverotnev. For the next season, the team looks to its underclassmen and new recruits to lead them to victory in the MAC.

Seniors in Picture: Kyle Andes, Dan Brown, Mark Ely, Mitch Gibson, Chad Hoofnagle, Ed Marshall, Malou McIntire, Barry Rhodes, Matt Rys, and Dennis Yagmourian.

Never Stop Running

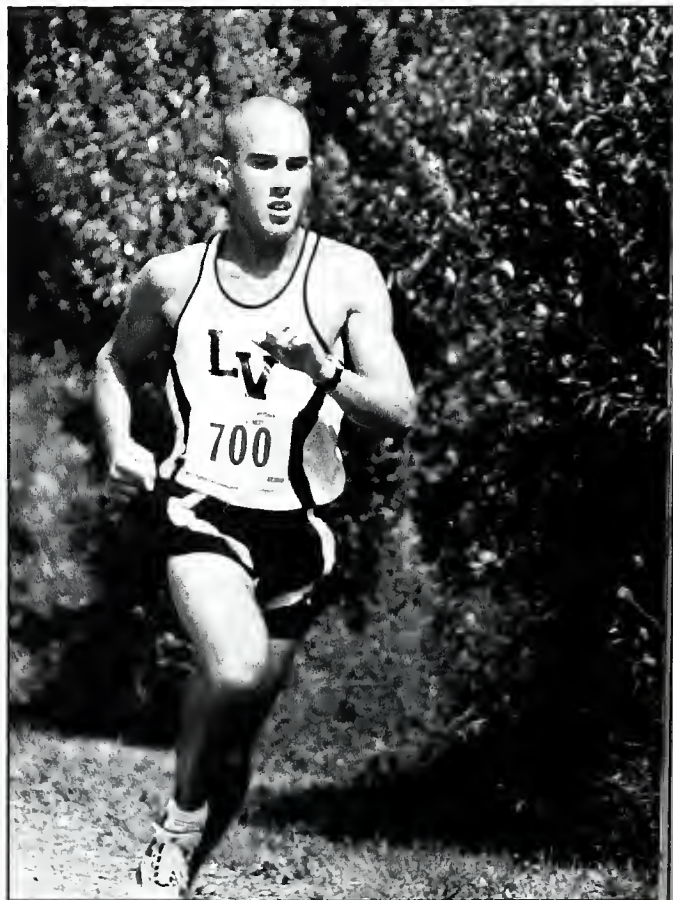

The season ended for both the men's and women's teams with each placing 8th in the MAC Championship Meet. This year the team says farewell to senior, Tres Nolett, as he is the only member graduating. The teams had a successful season, overall, and will look to have repeated success next year with the addition of new members in the fall. Good-Luck to the underclassmen as they prepare to run for a MAC Championship.

We Will Rock You...Again!

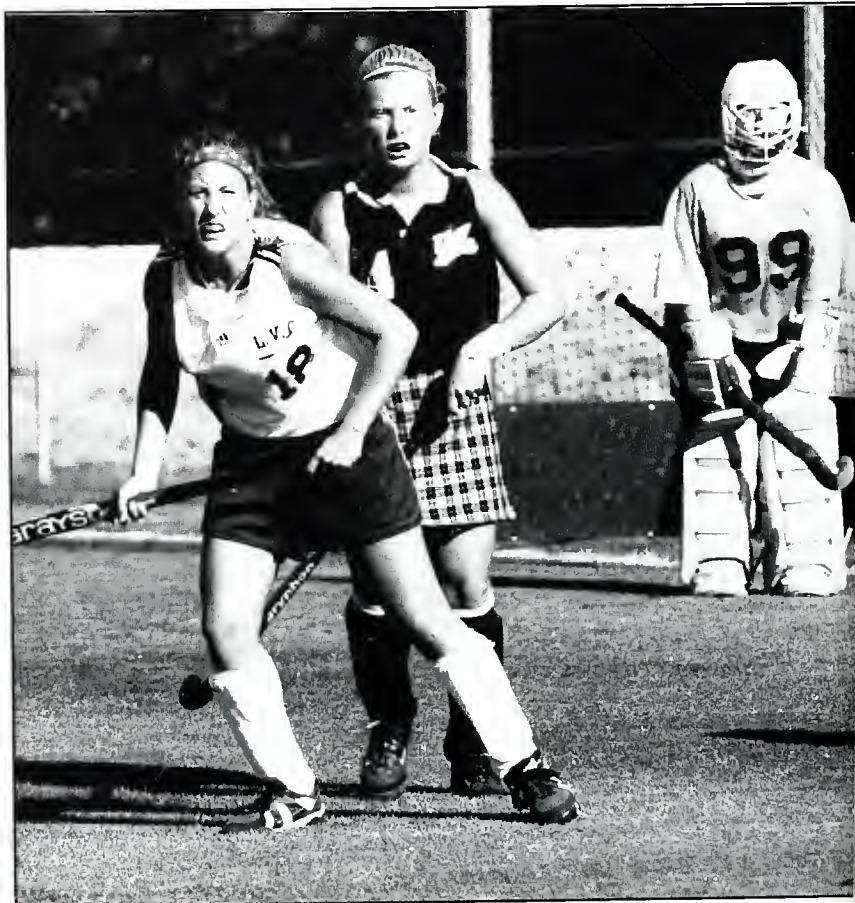

The Lebanon Valley College's field hockey team wrapped up the season with an 11-6 record (5-3 in Commonwealth). First year Head Coach Laurel Martin lead the team to their eighth-straight Commonwealth (MAC) playoff berth. Numerous individual awards were bestowed to senior Lisa Duke, including named First-Team ECAC Division III All-Star. As the ladies say goodbye to their graduating seniors, they eagerly prepare for the next successful season under Coach Martin's direction.

Kick Hard

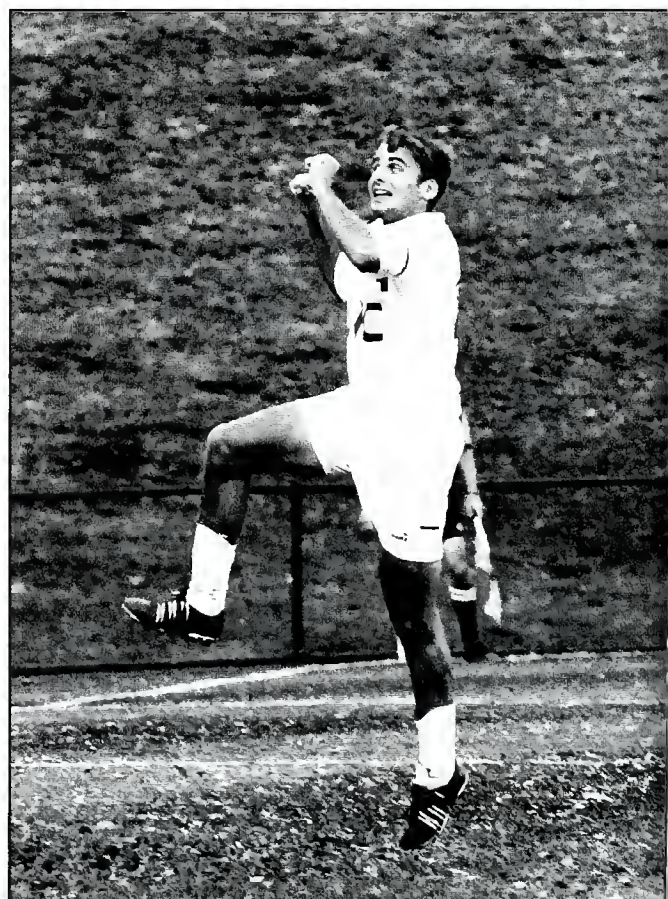

Head Coach Mark Pulisic led his team into the MAC playoffs with an 11-6-2 record. The team never made it out of the first round of the playoffs, however, the team had an incredible season. Two players, Junior, Michael Boger and Freshman, Fran Pitonyak were named to the MAC All-Star Team because of their talent. Next season, Coach Pulisic looks to rally his team to three consecutive years in which his team earns a playoff berth.

Seniors in Picture: Nathan Acker, Kevin Eiker, Brian Robbins, Nicholas Thomas, and Matthew Zander.

Go00000 Team

The Women's Soccer Team had a terrific season with a record of 15-5 under the supervision of Head Coach Mark Pulisic. Senior Captain, Abigail Stoltzfus said, "this year the LVC women had their best year. We finished 3rd in Mac's and were the 2nd seed in ECAC playoffs. Our team is made of girls who all deeply care for each other." The team will take the momentum gained this year to help propel them into the MAC Playoffs next season.

45 - Love

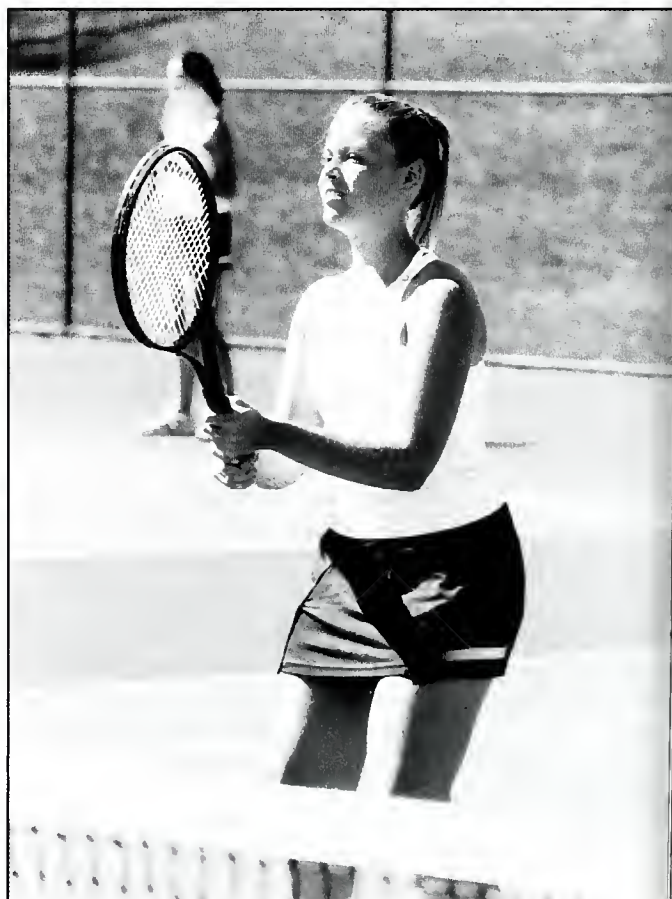

The Women's Tennis Team had a good season with an overall record of 7-8. The team made it into the MAC Championships once again under the instruction of Coach Cliff Myers. The team says good-bye to the only senior member, Kristen Bender, this year. The girls look to the underclassmen to continue to improve and reach the playoffs next season. Best of luck to the girls to have a smashing season next season.

Serving It To You

The Women's Volleyball Team had a successful season with a 23-14 record. The team competed in both the MAC and ECAC-South Championship Playoffs, but fell in the first round of each of the playoff games. Kelly Kaufmann said "I feel that we have a strong, dedicated team and good coaches. We also will be returning everyone next season. . . we were a major force in the conference." Head Coach Wayne Perry looks to lead his team next year to another successful season and playoff berth.

Fear This

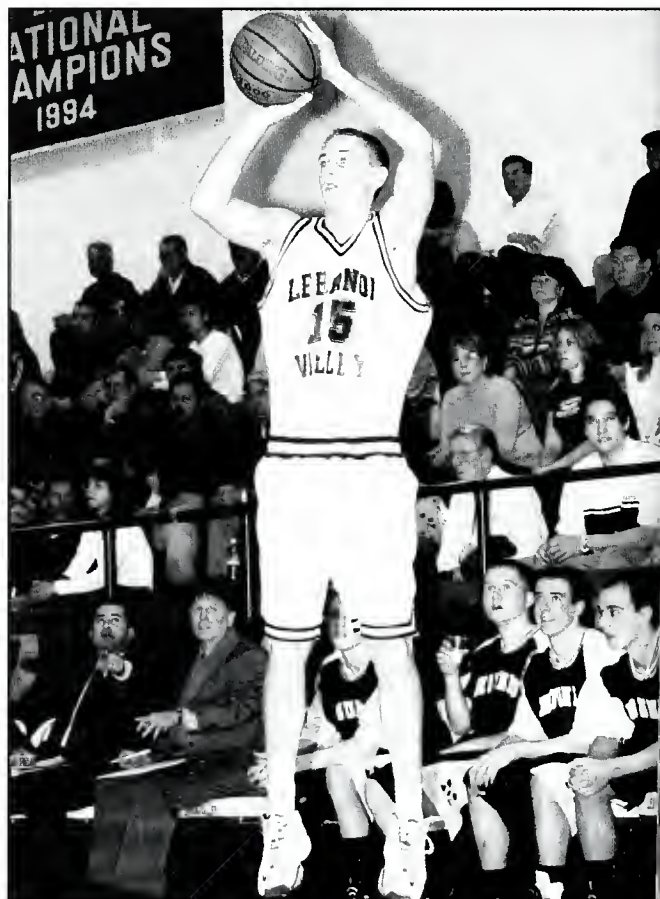

The Men's Basketball Team finished the season with a record of 18-9. The team entered the MAC Championships, falling in the first round. However, they went on to compete in the ECAC South Playoffs, making it into the second round. This year the team says farewell to Seniors Ryan Moore and Chris Kreider. Next year the team hopes to continue their success under the lead of Coach Brad McAlester and earn another chance to compete in the post-season.

Another Great Season

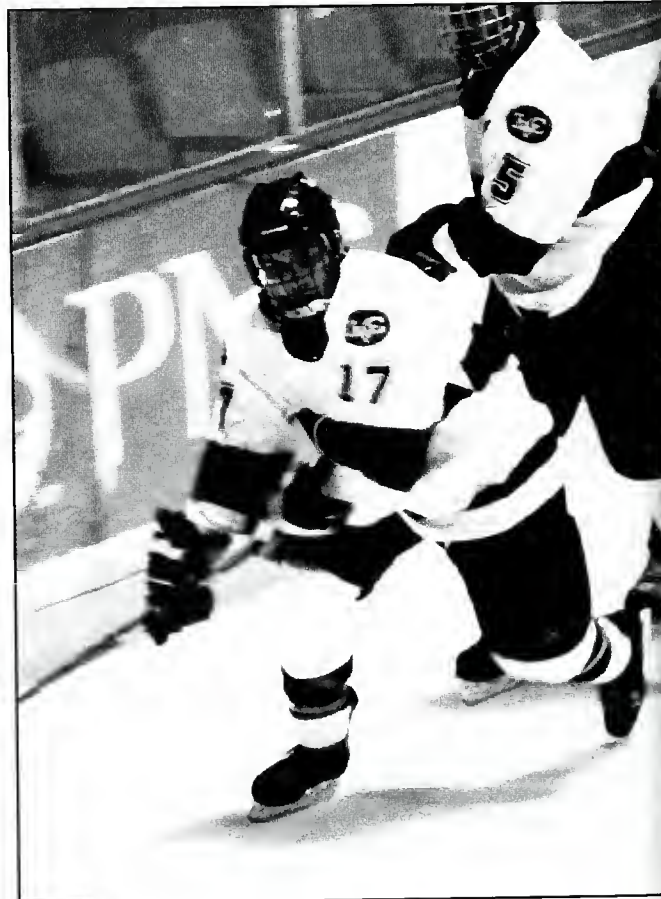

The Ice Hockey Team had "another great season" with a record of 23-4-1 under the coaching skills of Al MacCormack. The team earned a berth in the CAC Northeast Playoffs. The men made it into the championship game, however, Wentworth Institute edged them by a 5-4 margin. Senior Kevin Block was named the Northeast's Goaltender of the Year for 2002, while Coach MacCormack was selected as a finalist for AHCA Coach of the Year Award. The team says farewell to many seniors who made up the first-ever ice hockey team here at LVC; they will be greatly missed. Best of luck to next year's team for success.

It's All About the Endurance

The men's and women's teams finished the season with records of 5-6 and 4-8. They were led by senior co-captains Ron Garcia and Lindsey DeSio. Many records were broken, including the women's 200 and 400 freestyle relay. Shanalyn Sweigart also broke the record for the 50 and 100 freestyle. The leadership of seniors Ron Garcia, Luke Mason, Jay Whitaker, Ben Eberts, Erin Shollenberger, April Gunsallus, Karen Hendricks, Samantha Rill, Marissa Shaw, Elizabeth Jones, Lindsey DeSio, and Lindsay Weymouth will be missed next season as the team once again tries for a MAC Championship.

Greek Week

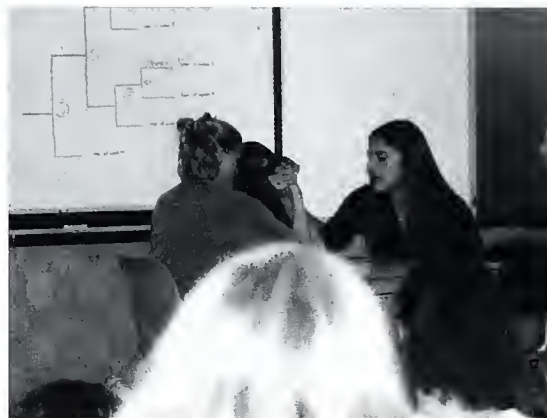

Greek week this year was a huge success. Despite weather that was somewhat uncooperative the Greek organizations on campus came together to have an enjoyable end of semester festival. Activities throughout the week included the annual "He's all that" show and an egg drop competition. Other highlights included the toga contest and the crowning of the Greek gods and goddesses. All of the organizations that participated had a wonderful time. The rest of the campus enjoyed seeing their friends and classmates have to much fun. Greek Council sponsored the event and hopes to continue its success in years to come. An annual LVC tradition to reflect on.

Senior Messages and Pictures

Jenahmenah,

You did it chika-rio! We are so proud of you. We had doubts first about you moving away to school, second about you being an R.A. of an entire house (is LVC crazy?), and lastly about you going to the Netherlands for a semester. You proved us wrong all those times. You turned out to be a stronger woman then we ever would have imagined. Now we know that wherever you go and whatever you do, you will excel with pride and dignity, because you've proven yourself to us as a woman, student, daughter, sister, and auntie. We love you! M, D, K, K, and H

Sarah,
Congratulations on a job well done. You have accomplished many things in your four years at LVC. Continue to set goals and work to achieve them. Never lose your smile that brightens every room you enter. Treasure yesterday. Celebrate today. Look forward to tomorrow. We are proud of you; our love and support are always with you.

Mom & Dad

Nicki,

In eighth grade you composed a letter that explained a wish to study and express your musical talents. We are so proud that you have been able to pursue this goal.

As you graduate and begin your career, we wish you happiness and success,

Love,
Mom, dad, And Lauren

Shaun,

May all your hopes and dreams come true. We are very proud of you and always remember, "Be The Puck."

Love,
Dad Mom, Corey, and Casey

Pinz,

Thank you! For all you've done, for all you have set out to accomplish and for all you love.

Mom & Dad

Michael,

Congratulations on a job well done. We are very proud of you, and wish you much success.

Love,
Mom, and Dad, Greg, Theresa, and Tom

Dear Ryan,

Your Family is so proud of you! Always know that you have our love and support forever.

We Love you.
Mom, Dad, Mike, and Nick

Patrick,
Congratulations on your graduation! We are so proud of all of your accomplishments along life's road thus far. May your future years be filled with happiness, success, and a love of God and life.

For Joanna- You are still my pride and Joy- Mom

You have studied well. May God give you a wise and discerning heart.
Love,
Dad, Mom,
Paul, and Mark

Dear Andrew,

You light up our lives! Your enthusiasm for life's adventures, your love of laughter and fun, your versatile musical talents, and your true sense of caring for others will serve you well as you touch your students' lives. May God always hold you in the palm of His hand and bless you in all your endeavors as you travel life's journey. We are so very proud of you and all of your accomplishments! Our love will be with you wherever you go.

Love you,
Mom and Dad

Natalie,
You're everything we ever hoped you would be. Thanks for so many special moments. Commit to the Lord whatever you do and your plans will succeed. Pr. 16:3.
Love,
Mom, dad, and Lee

Julie,
We all are so proud of how much you have accomplished. Your future can be everything you have dreamed of - but never stop dreaming.

To Nathan,

You have reached another milestone...Graduation from College! What a tremendous accomplishment you have achieved. I am so incredibly proud of you and encourage you to continue working towards your Master's Degree. I know you can make it a reality. The potential to learn has always been in you and I want to see you acquire all the knowledge you need to be successful. I have faith in everything you do and know you will do it well. You are my shining star!

I love you!

Mom

Dearest Jennifer,

The hardest thing we have ever done as parents is watch you board that Lufthansa Jet and take off for Greece. We watched as that huge plane quickly became a small dot in the sky. You were off to Athens, Greece where there had been an earthquake the night before. Our stomachs sank to our feet as you disappeared into what seemed like nothingness.

Bit now as we sneak into your journal and photos, we smile and are grateful you had such a wonderful opportunity. One you will carry with you all of you life. We especially liked this poem and chuckled after reading the last line. Although you were far away you were still our one and only Jen, still are, and always will be.

Looking out I see the baby blue sky like the baby blue blanket that used to snuggle my baby brother.

Come closer; see the white of the clouds that look fluffy enough to jump in.
Even closer, blue again, not the sky but the water, not baby blue, but darker, hiding its mysteries and danger in its depths.

Litochoro, small like a baby.

Just once more, come in closer and see the mystery and sometimes danger that this small town hides because behind it lies Mt. Olympus.

Mt. Olympus - home of the Gods - home of Refuge A - home of me for 3 days and 2 nights.

Is the mystery of Mt. Olympus hiding somewhere while the Gods are sleeping?

My answer is no, the only mystery of Mt. Olympus I see is how to climb up the freaking mountain.

Congratulations on a job well done! There will be many more mountains to climb but you know where your help comes from and who holds the plan for your future. Enjoy the journey, we will be watching and cheering you out!

We love you very much,

Dad, Mom, Staci, and Daniel

Remember the Playettes...
Steph Ritter, Gabrielle Gock, Amy O'Connor,

Jed, Congratulations for surpassing everything that anyone expected. Now the real work starts. Good luck at law school.
Love: Mom, Dad, and Chris

To Mom and Dad,

Thanks for always pushing me to strive for the best, I wouldn't have made it without your support.

Love,
Andrea Ren'ee DeWitt

Cheryl,

I am very proud of you this day.
Congratulations on all of your successes- they have turned you into the woman you are today. Best of luck for continued success!

Love,
Mom

" You are the best thing that ever happened to me!"
Congratulations on your graduation. I am so proud of you and all of your marvelous accomplishments. Love, Grandma

To the entire Class of 2002,

Best wishes to the graduates in all that you may endeavor. Remember everything you learned in and out of the classroom here at LVC.

Lebanon Valley College Alma Mater

*To Thee, dear Alma Mater
This ringing song we raise,
A song that's fraught with gladness,
A song that's filled with praise,
We cannot help but love Thee,
Our hearts are full and free,
Full we know the debt we owe,
To dear old L.V.C.*

*We come from old New Hampshire,
Where winter breezes blow,
And from the sunny Southland,
Where sweet magnolias grow,
We've sung "Star Spangled Banner,"
To "Dixie" given a cheer,
And now we raise this song of praise,
To Alma Mater dear.*

*Put forth your strongest might,
And let our Alma Mater
Win each and every fight,
Lift high its royal banner,
And keep its honor clear,
And let our song with voices strong,
Ring down thro' many a year.*
